Political Talk Has Haigis For Senator

Its a long while ahead, but far-sighted politicians are looking forward to the next election when the names of candidates will be suggested for the position of Senator for Massachusetts at Washington. Both Republicans and Democrats will have a candidate to be offered to the electorate. Newspaper men are linking the names of John W. Haigis of Greenfield, Sinclair Weeks of Newton, Henry Parkman, Jr., of Boston as well as Speaker Christian A. Herter of the House of Representatives as potential candidates to face the almost certain renomination of the veteran, David A. Walsh of the Democratic party. It is said that Weeks has decided to throw his hat in the ring. No announcement has been made by Mr. Haigis, but it is certain his friends here will gladly give him whatever support is possible. It is not known, whether Senator Walsh will seek another term.

Accorded Honor To Sing At The Fair

Prof. Melvin L. Gallagher, choral director of Northfield Seminary and Mount Hermon school, has received an invitation from the director of the Temple of Religion to present a program of Sacred Music by the Northfield Schools Chorus, at the New York Worlds Fair. Although the invitation must be refused, it is in itself a distinct tribute to Mr. Gallagher and an honor to the schools.

Dr. Robert Speer Here

Dr. Robert E. Speer, father of Elliott Speer, the late headmaster of Mount Hermon school, addressed the Sunday chapel services on the 30th. The climax of his talk was reached when he said that only the power of Christ can transform the lives of people.

"It isn't environment, it isn't heredity, it isn't a strong will that determines most powerfully a man's character," Dr. Speer stated. "Although all of these forces effect character, the most powerful factor possible in a man's life is the power of Christ."

"The day will come when men will be as sure of this important fact in the world as we are today of the force of light and the power of the radio to produce sound," Dr. Speer asserted.

Religious Education Announces Conference Details For Sessions

The announcement of the Northfield Conference of Religious Education, which will hold its 38th annual session, July 10-21, presents several features of interest to the churches from which its delegates come. A new division will be organized this year for young adults 22-30 years of age. This will provide many young people of this age-group the same kind of fellowship that many of them have enjoyed as members of the young people's division in the past and it also has the purpose of helping young married couples and single persons to find an active and satisfying place in the life and work of their home churches, which so many of them lack.

The course in music continues a service formerly under the direction of Miss Mabel Parkes Friswell. It will be led this year by Dr. Ralph Maclean, organist and director in the First Church of Newton, director of the Newton symphony orchestra and the Highland Glee club, and a successful leader of junior and young people's choirs. It will be of particular value for organists and directors of music in smaller churches, many of whom have found help in this course in past years. It will provide lists of simple but good anthems, hymns and instrumental music suitable for various occasions; and instruction in the fundamental principles of building musical programs for the service of worship in the church and the church school. Many churches have found it advantageous to send their music directors to take this course.

Another feature that has been increasingly valuable for the last two years is a course on How to Teach in the Church School for high school students. This gives the student the simple but fundamental principles of good teaching and opportunity for special work in the department of the school where they expect to serve. This is a practical help to many churches that are obliged to use young and comparatively inexperienced teachers for the younger grades. It will be taught by Miss Evelyn M. Scott, educational director of the First Congregational church in Winchester, who has been very successful with young people of this age.

Forty courses of study are listed in the bulletin, on a wide variety of subjects: Bible study, personal religion, philosophy of religion, worship, Christian biography, child study, creative activities, dramatics, and methods of work in the various departments of the church. The faculty includes men and women of thorough training and practical experience, such as have always have made up the teaching force of this school. The Rev. Allen E. Claxton, of the Trinity-Union Methodist church of Providence, R. I., will be the chaplain and the preacher at the Sunday services. Rev. Roy L. Minich will be Dean of young people, a post which he has held for many years and in which he has endeared himself to hosts of young people all over New England.

Another feature which has proved interesting and helpful to many is the Week-end Institute, with sessions beginning Friday afternoon and continuing through Sunday afternoon. The program includes groups for men and women with informal round-table discussions of topics of interest in church work and personal Christian living. Mrs. William H. Medlicott, Associate Executive Secretary of the Missions Council of the Congregational and Hurley, Webster, Hammond, Jones, Randall, Stevens and Koulowski. The game was played on the high school playground and there were quite a number of visitors attending.

Tax Rate Delayed

The tax rate for the cities and towns of the state will be much delayed this year and may not be announced before August or September. This is the information coming from state officials. It is said that the reason is the delay in making up the state budget. However, when it is announced and the bills sent out, we shall have to pay and get the tax collectors receipt.

Christian churches, will lead the women's group and Dr. Herbert W. Gates, Dean of the conference, will discuss problems of church school work with workers in that department. For the men's group a layman actively engaged in the men's work of one of the denominations has been invited. A special bulletin with the program of the institute will be issued.

This conference is one of the oldest in point of continuous service among the summer training schools of the country and its history has been one of steadily growing usefulness. It is interdenominational and non-sectarian in organization and in spirit and hundreds of churches have expressed their appreciation of the help received by them in discovering and training workers. Alden M. Hammond of Providence, R. I. is the chairman of the board; succeeding the Hon. Robert Chapin Parker of Westfield. Judge Parker was the enthusiastic and able chairman of this conference for nearly 30 years and is now honorary chairman. Thomas Todd of Boston is treasurer. Other members of the board are Harold Bates of Winchester, Prof. James P. Berkeley of the Andover-Newton school; Rev. Francis L. Cooper, South church, Campello; Frank M. Grebe, Second church, West Newton; Rev. Carl A. Hempel, Swampscott; Dr. William M. Hoyt, Wellesley Hills; Dr. Frank Jennings, executive secretary, Mass. Council of Churches; Rev. Warren Powell, Boston university; Howard W. Selby, Boston; Rev. Clifford O. Simpson, Arlington; Rev. Paul M. Spurrier, New Bedford.

Dr. Herbert W. Gates, 38 Kenwood avenue, Newton Center, is Dean and registrar of the conference and will be glad to answer inquiries regarding registrations or courses of study, including advice concerning courses to be chosen for individual needs.

Issue New Booklet

A new booklet has been issued by the Northfield hotel, which is most attractive, blue being the prevailing color of printers ink used. It describes the art of living and the advantages which the hotel and the Chateau has to offer and welcomes all to its privileges. Altogether it is by far the best piece of literature ever issued by the hotel management.

Chinese Christian To Address Students Russell Sage Chapel

Dr. T. Z. Koo will speak in Russell Sage chapel, Northfield Seminary, on Saturday morning, May 13, at 1 o'clock. Immediately following the chapel service, he will conduct a seminar of ministers throughout this area. Dr. Koo's subject will be "The Far Eastern Situation and its Relation to World Peace."

Dr. Koo has come to be recognized on this and other continents as a foremost world leader in church, education and state. He is a graduate of St. John's university, Shanghai. For nine years an official in the administrative department of the Chinese railway service, he joined the staff of the National Committee of the Y. M. C. A. of China, with special responsibilities for colleges and universities; to this responsibility later was added the cultivation of better international relations. In 1925 Dr. Koo was a member of the Second Opium conference called in Switzerland by the League of Nations; in this assignment he was one of three, chosen from 34 organizations to represent the Chinese people as a whole. In more recent years Dr. Koo, as secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation, has been in intimate contact with university, civic and church leaders of Asia and Australia, New Zealand and Europe, Canada and the United States. So important was his counsel that he was brought from New Zealand to address and participate in the World Conference at Oxford, England, in the summer of 1937.

Many things about Dr. Koo have impressed his hearers—the charm and poise of his personality, his amazing grasp of world affairs, the clear lucidity of his thought and its expression, and above all, his vital faith and penetrating insight into spiritual reality. He has a many-sided message. To some he brings new understanding of the life and thought of China and of her social and political problems; to some a keener apprehension of the international situation; to many a fresh vision of the world Christian community and of the Federation's place in it. But more than all else, it is his fresh and vivid portrayal of the revelation of God in Christ that makes him the great student leader that he is, and that constitutes his greatest contribution.

R. R. Earnings Better

The report of the Boston and Maine railroad for the month of March shows a deficit of $88,087.58 after fixed charges. This compares with a deficit of the same month, last year of $405,106.98. For the first quarter of the year the deficit is $319,617.96 as compared the deficit for the same period last year of $1,588,553.35. It is said that the increased earnings from the freight division brought about this better showing. However the railroad company is in the red for the present, but hopeful of the future.

Death Claims Both

Many friends who have attended former General conference sessions will remember Rev. Charles W. Abel, a foreign missionary located at Papua, New Guinea and his wife. Both were earnest workers and had the utmost confidence of the Missionary Board. They were interested in the Northfield work of D. L. Moody. A few years ago Mr. Abel was killed by an auto while visiting in England and now word comes that Mrs. Abel has died. Their children will carry on their successful work in the foreign station.

Prof. Frank L. Boyden, chairman of the Franklin county chapter, American Red Cross has received word from the National Red Cross that an honor certificate has been awarded the Franklin county Red Cross chapter for distinguished achievement during the 22nd Roll Call. The roll call workers throughout the county enrolled 5162 members or more than ten per cent of the county population. The letter from Richard F. Allen, manager, of the Eastern area, American National Red Cross follows:

"An honor certificate for distinguished achievement in the 22nd Roll Call has been awarded your chapter. A widespread, interested membership is vital to the maintenance of the local, national and international work of the Red Cross, and I wish to congratulate your chapter upon enlisting this fine public support.

EDITORIAL

Someone has said that "a match has a head but no brain," but it is a match which carefully tossed or thrown in the woods, has a habit of setting a fire which might prove rather disastrous. If a match has no brains, we must be the brains for it and see to it that it is not needlessly tossed anywhere where there is the slightest chance of setting a fire. Fire Underwriters tell us that smokers in the woods, carelessly throwing away matches and smoking material, like lighted cigarettes and cigar butts cause a large proportion of the total fire losses. The tragic thing about the matter, is that it is preventable.

Throughout our nation, from the small towns in the rural sections to the big cities of the industrial districts, the war scares are getting our nerves. The ruthless and barbarous militarists of Europe are clanging forth their threats and nations are threatened in the accomplishment of selfish ends. Even America is reproached and assailed. But with it all, America wants no war and over 80 per cent of our peoples have so registered their opinions. We would like to be neutral in issues across the seas, but there is no neutrality within us. There is no individual neutral in feelings today. The isolationist and the peace crier at any price must lack the sympathy of human brotherhood and feel the weakness of a spineless man. No, we want no war—no needless shedding of blood, but remember we are not neutral—not one.

Nobody with any intelligence expected that it would be either easy or pleasant to reduce the cost of state government in Massachusetts. Nevertheless it is discouraging that every specific suggestion for cutting expenses is immediately pounced upon by local groups and denounced because it means either loss of salaries, or loss in local business. "Cut expenses" is the slogan, but it means cut them somewhere else. There must be a lowering of taxes and the great mass of taxpayers are behind the Governor to make a real reduction in state expenditures.

April Weather Poor

The month of April gave us abnormal weather and temperatures. There was not a day that might be called warm, except one, and that day it was not above 69. Official records tell us that the entire month was below normal. Threatening weather was evident most of the time, with cold and strong winds. Let's hope that the month of May will give us pleasant days, warmth and sunshine. Everybody will appreciate it.
